

Lead Safe Building Maintenance, Lead Safe Work Practices and Lead Clearance Technician Course

This training class will be presented at no cost to attendees and includes course materials. Class size is limited to 25.

It's now the law in New Jersey! The state of New Jersey now requires that all property owners, maintenance workers or others disturbing surfaces that may contain lead paint must, in accordance with the NJ law pass a one day training course on safe building maintenance practices. In addition, those persons performing the required dust wipe sampling are also required to complete the state certified course. This requirement for compliance includes owners, employees, contractors, subcontractors, etc. It includes any and all persons who will disturb more than 2 square feet of lead-based paint surfaces. The only exception to this requirement is properties that have been certified as either free of lead based paint or lead free interior. LEW Corporation provides environmental inspection, testing, consulting and engineering services to residential, municipal, federal, and commercial clients throughout the country. The goal of this program is to teach attendees lead-safe work practices and the strategies for implementing them. This course is HUD approved and has the component of certification for dust wipe technician.

The training requirements for Lead-Safe Building Maintenance Practices as detailed in N.J.A.C 5:10 6.6(g) as well as the training requirements to perform interim controls as a Lead Safe Work Practices trained individual as detailed in 24 CFR Part 35.1330. The recipient of this certificate has also completed the training for lead-Clearance Technician as detailed in 24 CFR Part 35.1340 and NJAC 5:17-2.1 (C)4
